

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE present volume of abstracts of ancient deeds relating to the County of Derby owes its publication to the following circumstances:—

The Derbyshire Library and Collection of Sir H. H. Bemrose includes an extensive and varied mass of manuscripts, among which are many original deeds of ancient and modern date. The services of an expert being sought to examine and catalogue these with a view to the possible publication of some of them, the present Editor undertook the work. While this was being done, a little enquiry soon elicited the fact that there were numerous other deeds, in private hands, scattered through the County, which would be placed at Sir Henry's disposal for so useful a purpose as the publication of a book of Derbyshire Charters. Moreover, the British Museum was known to be rich in Derbyshire deeds, having in its entirety the charters collected by Adam Wolley and bequeathed by him to the nation in 1828, as well as many others, and it was, therefore, decided to make short abstracts in English, which should embrace all the salient points of each document, of all the Derbyshire deeds, either in public archives or private muniment rooms, to which access could be had.

It will be seen from the appended list of owners, etc., that the 2,787 charters treated in this volume were derived from no less than thirty-four different sources. With very few exceptions, the charters are in actual existence, and have been examined by the Editor, whose object has been to include only those deeds which can themselves, if necessary, be referred to.

The earliest charter included is one to Calk Abbey, to which the date of circ. 1129-1139 has been assigned, and it was decided to include nothing later than A.D. 1550.

The twelfth century charters, of which there are fifty-six, have been printed in full (except one or two, the originals of which could not be seen).

The Editor would gladly have included, especially, the collections of the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Rutland, and Sir Francis Burdett, of Foremark, but though these owners expressed sympathy with the work, various circumstances prevented their collections being dealt with at this time. A few, however, of the last-named owner's very early charters have been taken from printed books and inserted, though the originals were not examined. There are ample materials in these three collections alone for another volume equal in bulk to the present one if its reception be such as to encourage a continuation of the enterprise.

The arrangement of the abstracts is as follows:—Where a deed refers to one place only, it will, naturally, be found under that place. Where, however, several places occur in one deed, the abstract will be found under the place which is mentioned first in the deed, and to that place cross references will be added under the other places mentioned.

There are added three separate Indices—viz., of Places, Persons, and Matters, whereby, it is hoped, the contents of the book will be easily accessible, not only to local antiquaries, genealogists, and others, but also to those who have the more serious end in view—namely, the compilation of original materials for the future history of Derbyshire. In the preparation of the Index the Editor has been much assisted by the careful work of Mr. E. E. Taylor, the Curator of Sir H. H. Bemrose's Library at Derby.

The Editor wishes to thank most cordially the following noblemen, gentlemen, and ladies, who have acceded so willingly to his applications for the use of their charters, viz.:—The Right Hon. Lord Scarsdale, of Kedleston; the Hon. Henry J. Coke, of Longford; the Right Hon. F. J. S. Foljambe, of Osberton, Notts.; Sir E. O. Every, Bart., and Godfrey Mosley, esq., of Derby, his trustee; Sir Ralph H. S. Wilmot, Bart., of Chaddesden, and Miss Wilmot; Gen. John Talbot Coke, of Trusley; Col. William Langton Coke, of Brookhill; C. E. B. Bowles, esq., of Wirksworth; Miss de Rodes (now Mrs. Locker-Lampson), of Barlborough Hall; Charles Drury, esq., of Sheffield; W. Drury Lowe, esq., of Locko; W. R. Holland, esq., of Ashbourne; Mrs. Mundy, of Markeaton; Haughton C. Okeover, esq., of Okeover; Mrs. Pole-Gell, of Hopton; R. R. Redmayne, esq., Chapter Clerk at Lichfield; G. Trevelyan Lee, esq., Town Clerk of Derby; and to Henry J. Ellis, esq., of the Manuscript Dept., British Museum, for valuable assistance in dating, etc., the twelfth century charters. Also to many others in the County who have aided him by their advice and suggestions in his efforts to find out the hiding-places of these manuscript treasures; the editors of printed books bearing on the subject; the owners of private catalogues; and to the writers of various articles in the Journals of the Derbyshire Archaeological and Natural History Society, all of which works the Editor has ventured to make use of.

But chiefly are his thanks due and offered to Sir H. H. Bemrose, the instigator and promoter of the book, who has met all the Editor's suggestions in a most generous and public-spirited manner, and at whose expense the volume is published. His devotion to all that concerns the County is well known, but if this publication should prove to be acceptable and useful at all, it will be chiefly owing to him, and he will have added one more to his many services to the Town and County of Derby.

I. H. JEAYES.
